Grading Details

Single Events:

- Competitive – For elite players who have competed at an international or national team level and for national, state or provincial master's champions.
- Recreational - For players who play in non-competitive or lower-grade club leagues, as well as social and casual players.

The OMGAD reserves the right to move Participants into a different division. The OMGAD has the power to remove a grade level where entries require it.

Athlete and event eligibility

Participants may enter a maximum of three events. Participants playing in Singles and Doubles must play in the same grade division: Competitive or Recreational. The three events can be any combination of singles, doubles and mixed doubles.

- Players may play a maximum of three events per discipline (i.e. Singles, Doubles or Mixed Doubles).
- The Badminton competition for individual events is dependent on the number of registrations. Round robin (pool play) preliminary rounds will be held.
- Where there is more than one pool, these pools will determine the placings for knockout rounds for medals. Players can expect to compete in a minimum of two matches per event.
- If the players in a doubles pair are in different age categories, the pair must play in the younger age category. Players entering doubles or mixed doubles events must enter the division of the higher-level player in the pair.

Competition Schedule

The OMGAD shall post the draw two weeks prior to the start of the competition on the Games website and each day of competition at the venue and on the website. It will be the responsibility of all Participants to ensure they have checked the draws and are available to play at the scheduled time and location.
